KYUSHU

Relax & Rejoice
ONSEN ISLAND KYUSHU
JAPAN
Kyushu offers visitors numerous opportunities to relax and heal both the mind and body, with a variety of attractions, such as beautiful seasonal scenery and an abundance of hot springs. Although not 100% halal, there are Muslim-friendly facilities, accommodations and restaurants to choose from throughout Kyushu.

Kyushu is a wonderful place to live, one of the best spots in Japan

I have been living in Kyushu ever since I came to Japan, and I definitely think it was the best choice for me. The people are friendly, and we are surrounded by beautiful nature. My friends from my country living in different areas in Japan often say they envy my good fortune.

The most attractive part of Kyushu for me is the seasonal beauty, that includes cherry blossoms in spring, colorful trees in autumn, and snow in winter. It was an unforgettable moment when I saw snow for the first time in my life.

Fukuoka Masjid is open to everyone.

Fukuoka Masjid was established in 2009 with the important mission of introducing Islam to Japanese people in order to allow them a better understanding of it. We have provided a variety of programs, including cooking classes and lectures in Japanese. We have also received a number of Muslim tourists and provided information on Muslim-friendly restaurants, hotels, and prayer places.

The biggest problem for these tourists is often food, especially because they cannot read Japanese. They also get confused by the differences in lifestyle. For example, Japanese people can be quite talkative regardless of the gender of the person they are communicating with. Muslims know that they don’t intend any offensive by this, but it can be very uncomfortable nonetheless. Unfortunately, Japanese people are still not familiar with Islamic culture.

Kyushu has a lot to offer, for example, beautiful uncrowded streets and a peaceful atmosphere because of the kindness and gentleness of the local people. Therefore, there is a lot of potential for it to become a more comfortable place for Muslims to live in or visit if they have more opportunities to interact with Japanese people for further mutual understanding. In order to promote this, and share information, Fukuoka Masjid has formed the South Japan Association with four other mosques in Kumamoto, Beppu, Kagoshima and Hiroshima.

Ishak Amagasaka, the caretaker of Fukuoka Masjid

Come to Japan 18 years ago from Oman. He is the caretaker of Fukuoka Masjid since 2010.

Nureddin Saadi, Imam of Fukuoka Masjid

Come to Japan in 2006 from Libya. He is Imam of Fukuoka Masjid since 2013.
Lodging

Hotel New Otani Hakata
Fukuoka

This one of the major hotels in Fukuoka and Kyushu. It is located in a convenient location for sightseeing and business. Apart from lodging, this hotel is also popularly used for a variety of purposes such as meetings and banquets. The hotel restaurants serve locally produced vegetables and foods, while the Japanese and French restaurants serve Muslim meals upon prior reservation. In the case of buffet, photos are displayed in front of each dish to inform the ingredients used in each meal. For groups, the staff will explain the ingredients used in English so that guests can enjoy their meals with confidence. In addition, there are also multiple private dining rooms for groups from 2 to 20 people for guests to use.

Ayunosato
Hitoyoshi

This hot spring inn is located at a prime location overlooking the Kumia River and Hitoyoshi Castle Ruins. The restaurant for foreign guests are equipped with the availability of English indoor guide and room information, and resident (English-speaking) staff. In the amenities goals set for Muslims (which have prayer mats, Wudu water, bathing pools and indoor slippers), a printed copy of Japanese prayer times is also included. Muslim guests can enjoy Japanese-style sumptuous services with confidence, such as the rare, full brown shio and halal Japanese Wafers. There is also a lounge where guests can enjoy their meals in English. In addition, optional services such as/ora-wearing and tea ceremony experience (shibarai) are also available to promote understanding of the Japanese culture.

Tourist facility

Huis Ten Bosch
Sasebo

Huis Ten Bosch is a theme park that reproduces the streets of medieval Europe and Japan, and a start site where visitors can enjoy the seasonal Japanese flowers. Throughout the year, the park boasts its world’s largest illuminated lighting, entertaining music, and shows, and non-stop games and attractions to stimulate the senses. As its climate is not enough to cover the extensive attractions, the park also provides restaurants and cafes. The hotel’s restaurant offers delicious food using a plenty of local ingredients. If advance reservations are made, the restaurant can prepare vegetarian menu or dishes using halal meat for Muslims as requested. Have fun in the park and enjoy your good food.

Hyotan Onsen
Beppu

Hyotan Onsen is a worldwide long-established hot spring facility in Beppu hot spring area. It has been loved by many for more than 50 years. It has also won three stars (the highest rank) in the “Michelin Green Guide Japan”. In its greatest charm is the 100% original, quality flowing hot spring water. Muslim guests can have private family bath to relax and renew their fatigue alone, or with the family. Guests are also welcomed to try soba that can be enjoyed without having to take off their clothes. In addition to bathing, there are also other ways to enjoy hot spring, such as drinking the spring water which is good for the skin, or taking and applying the toner to the skin. “We try our best to make the Muslim guests feel not only have a good time at the hot spring but also be able to enjoy the delicious meals served at our restaurants," said the manager enthusiastically.

Food

In Kyushu, there are 100% halal restaurants owned by Muslims and shops selling halal food ingredients. There are also restaurants managed by Japanese that serve dishes using halal ingredients. In addition, there are also Muslim-friendly restaurants that do not serve pork. All these options are for you to choose from according to your beliefs.

Tempura Ebina
Tosu

A popular restaurant with customers coming from afar just to enjoy its fresh seafood and delicious tempura. The oil used for frying is typically extracted from a blend of vegetable oils. New batches of oil are used for Muslim diners to ensure it does not mix with halal ingredients. Guests can enjoy fresh vegetables, fruits, and a variety of tempura delicacies as requested. Enjoy the freshly fried tempura by dipping it in a variety of sauces.

Rajpoth Halal Foods & Spices
Kagoshima

This is a halal food specialty store located about 1 minute walk from Kagoshima Station. Having lived in Kagoshima for 15 years, the owner aims to provide Muslim community in Kagoshima with food that they are confident enough to consume. There are halal spices, meat, curry, and many other items imported from around the world at this shop. Products that are popular among Muslim traveler include halal snacks and spices to be consumed in between their traveling time. Apart from that, various curry mixes and instant cup noodles that can be easily cooked in hotel rooms are also sold selling almost all Halal seasonings. There are many halal restaurants in Kagoshima such as stand-alone shops allow visitors to wear clothes with hijabs and not have to remove their headscarves.

Bungo Ramen Itto-Ryu
Beppu

Beppu has been one of the most sought for Japanese-style dish around the world recently. Among many varieties of ramen, Kyushu ramen is one of the most popular in Japan and being sought for dining every visit to Kyushu. Although, we have created the “red” and “white” Kyushu ramen recipe specifically for Muslim customers. The broth is made using toba and sea-food base to reproduce the original taste.

Nabi san Fukuoka
Fukuoka

This is an Indian- Egyptian restaurant whose owner and chef are Muslims. All menus is halal so Muslim diners can enjoy their meals with confidence. It has an array of menus such as veggies, curry, couscous, kabobs and many more, while the chef's specialty Nabi san Fukuoka is a must, should be tried.

Hotel Nikko Kumamoto
Kumamoto

This hotel is right in the downtown of Kumamoto and has a great accessibility to the shopping areas, government offices and even Kumamoto Castle. From the hotel, it only takes 5 minutes to drive to the castle, an ancient battle as well as having the world’s largest castle tower. It is very convenient for those who want to enjoy all kinds of food and drink in your own hotel room on your own time. You can do it without worrying about the ingredients of food and drink in your own hotel room. It is set table style in a daily basis.

Nababi on
Fukuoka

The "Red" ramen is the hot and spicy type, and the "White" ramen is for the mild-taste. The level of spiciness can be adjusted by adding more "spicy red sauce" made using garlic and chives. Even the Muslim residents of Beppu love the taste. Its popularity is gaining more and more throughout.
